One car that had us walking back for extra looks was the Garage RYO Odyvia from Hiroshima. This is actually owned by a female drifter, so if you happen to see it coming up in your rear view, you best get movin'! d-japan-ryo.co.jp

Mugen's supercharger kit for the CR-Z. WANT!

RAUH-Welt Begriff doesn't need any introduction but this new 993 Cabriolet does. It's one of the first topless projects to surface from the RWB camp and it does it with the help of Mark Arcenal, the man behind of Fatlace, Hellaflush, illest and more recently RWB USA. More style than speed, the car sports the typical RWB widebody and signature SSR Professor SP1 wheels. And if you need to know where they got the name 'Spearmint Rhino' from, well, give Sam Du a call the next time you're in Vegas. rauhwelt-usa.com

The M7 Japan CTR driven by NOB Taniguchi. We'd hit it. m7japan.com

We've come to expect the unexpected from Rocky Auto, but even still we have to admit they caught us off guard with this 1UZ swapped Hakosuka. rockyauto.co.jp

G Force carbon exterior is only fitting for NOB Taniguchi's personal GT-R with Bride seats and soon-to-have HKS GT800 turbo kit. gf-eng.co.jp
